

SUBJECT OF PRESENTATION: AVIATION PHOTOGRAPHY

Brian Losito, a commercial photographer based in Montreal, and has been Air Canada's Corporate Photographer since 1987. He is a contributor to enRoute magazine and aircanada.com and is credited with many magazine covers. Brian has been involved in shooting many of Air Canada advertising campaigns. He maintains a busy shooting schedule traveling the Air Canada network.

Brian is responsible for the visual look of Air Canada. His photos line the halls of Air Canada's corporate offices and can be seen in airports around Canada. He shoots many different subjects from people, food, and anything related to the airlines operation, he is best know for his air to air photography.

Brian is responsible for the Air Canada photo library and archives containing over 300.000 images dating back to the beginning of the airline in 1937.

